Free Journals

The article that was originally located here has been retracted. Free journals are no longer available in the Library.

WebVoyage Catalog Improvements

The Library has solved the problem of dead links to electronic journals in the online catalog. Most e-journal links will now direct users to the Library's e-journal locator.

UpToDate Mobile Access

Users can set up mobile access to UpToDate as follows:

1. While on campus or VMware, go to <https://www.uptodate.com>
2. In the upper right corner of the screen, click Register.
3. Type in the requested information and create your own username and password.
4. Find, download, and install the UpToDate app on your mobile device using the App Store (iPhone/iPad), Play Store (Android), or Windows Store

(Windows).

5. Users who do not access UpToDate via the campus network at least every 30 days will receive a cancellation notice. Log in again from the campus network (not via a cell phone) to re-confirm your access.

Publication Rate of Meeting Abstracts

Publication of a full article based on a meeting abstract should not be considered a foregone conclusion. In general, only 20-30% of presentation abstracts are ultimately developed into and published as full journal articles. The rate may vary considerably according to subject field and type of presentation.
