

Jobs in Agriculture

During this graduation season, encourage young adults to investigate agricultural careers. Most high school students think of farming or ranching when they consider jobs in agriculture, but there are many other options and countless potential employers. Whether a student excels in numbers or prefers to work with people and communities or enjoys working with plants and animals, there is an ag job for every personality. Check out the list of jobs below for some ideas to start the conversation with the next generation.

Agricultural Aviator
Agricultural Engineer
Agronomist
Agroterrorism Specialist
Animal Behaviorist
Animal Nutritionist
Appraiser
Biochemist
Botanist
Breeder
Chemical Dealer
Commercial Fisherman
Ecologist
Economist
Educator
Entomologist
Epidemiologist
Equipment Manufacturer
Extension Agent
Farmer
Farrier
Food Inspector
Geneticist
GIS Specialist
Health Education Specialist
Industrial Engineer
Industrial Hygienist
Inspector
Insurance Agent
Journalist
Lawyer
Logger
Marine Biologist
Photographer
Quality Assurance Specialist
Rancher
Research Scientist
Safety Engineer
Safety Inspector
Sales Representative
Veterinarian
Water Specialist

An Ag Jobs Poster and the Agricultural Employers Poster above can be requested at agcenter@uthct.edu.